

Disclaimer

International Transport Information Services B.V.

Tram4U offers the opportunity to acquire free information concerning positions of seagoing- and inland- vessels for her customers. Due to the fact that this information is free available, only a limited number of sources is interrogated by the Tram4U software, resulting in less accurate information as compared to the commercial version. Especially coverage and last available position information can be of considerable less quality. The information is not filtered or improved.

The free functionality is provided to give our (potential) customers an impression of the powerful possibilities of the Tram4U platform and is not designed to be used for commercial operations. The free version is limited to a period of 60 days.

All Tram4U products are subject to the InterTransIS/Tram4U General Terms of delivery